

The College has both a desire and a responsibility to ensure that high standards of conduct are maintained by staff and students at all times, and that grievances are managed and resolved fairly, and efficiently. A grievance in simple terms is a complaint. Complaints can range from not being happy with an assessment result, to feeling unfairly treated by what someone has said or done to you, to feeling really bad about an event or situation.

If you feel as though you have a grievance, below is a flowchart to help you know how you can act so that your complaint can be resolved. The nature of the complaint may require a choice about who to contact first. Outlined below are options of who to contact:

If you have a grievance and would like to make a complaint:

Option 1: Complaint taken calmly to the person (s) involved.	Unless there are reasons why it should not be taken directly to the person(s). For example: if it is too serious, or if you feel too emotional or if it is not appropriate for you to take it up with them.
